

Overview

Description

The name Maybach stands out for its unbridled levels in luxury, performance and limitless individualisation. And when it comes to passenger protection, we push the boundaries even further, reaching a very high level with a factory-made solution.

A Maybach Guard is the answer to the needs of heads of state or businessmen, looking for discreet protection on their saloons during their journeys. This occurs without missing the luxurious environment the passengers are used to enjoy.

The Maybach Guard, just like any other regular Maybach saloon, is constructed from the bottom up as a special version. This vehicle is based on the Maybach 62 model and enable you to choose almost from the complete array of options and refinements available for the Maybach 62 model. The protection offered is organically integrated, not tacked on afterwards. Concealed beneath the outer skin of the bodywork and evolving naturally from the central core of the vehicle, highly specialised Maybach craftsmen construct a reinforced steel cage around the passenger cell.

The base of the Maybach was originally designed for the extra weight of the protective armouring so that no changes would have to be made to the drive train, suspension or braking-system. The car handles effortlessly at all times. Further contributions are made by the electronic control systems such as ESP®, ABS, ASR Brake Assist BAS and AIRMATIC DC. Nor do you have to make any compromises when it comes to performance either: the Maybach Guard accelerates from 0 to 100 km/h in just 5.7 seconds and is the only armoured car in the world able to reach a top speed of 250 km/h.

Upmost care in safety and individualization too

The bodyshell is built in the same production plant in Sindelfingen where all the other Maybach models are built.
